Is It Magic or Is It Science?

Have you ever walked by a table in a restaurant and thought to yourself, "Can I pull this table cloth fast enough to make sure everything still stays on the table?" I know I have and in this class you will learn how to do this trick and more. In this program we will explore the art form of magic and the mysterious and exiting world of science that we live in. The focus will be on science by opening the doors of physics and chemistry. Thru experiments, class members will have their critical thinking skills turned upside down.
